Step 1:
YOU HAVE BEEN ADMITTED
COMPLETING YOUR ADMISSION

As soon as you receive confirmation of your admission, you might have to send additional documents or submit an online pre-enrollment form. Check with your institution the necessary steps to follow before your arrival. You also need to ask when the academic year starts so that you can book your flight.

Good to know
If possible, avoid booking flights or trains that arrive at Grenoble on Sundays, public holidays or after 7 p.m. as most shops will be closed and there will be less public transportation.

PLANNING YOUR BUDGET

First of all, before searching for where to stay, you need to estimate how much money you can spend on accommodation. In this section, you will learn about the main expenses you will have to meet in France. This information will help you calculate your monthly budget. Note that besides recurrent expenses, you will have to spend a lot upon arrival!

Monthly expenses
Accommodation is the main expense for a student and can account for up to 50% of the monthly budget. Expect to spend between €210 and €600 per month depending on the type of accommodation, plus the charges (water, electricity, insurance, etc.). Food ranks second: you will spend about €200 per month. Then comes leisure, transportation, telephone and internet subscriptions, not to mention health care costs, which, even if they are well reimbursed in France, still represent a cost.

Expenses upon arrival
A deposit for accommodation (which will be returned after leaving the accommodation, if it is in as good a condition as it was when you moved in), agency charges, enrollment fee, student life fee (“cotisation vie étudiante”),... It is possible that upon arrival, you will spend more than €1,000.

Financing your stay
Scholarships
Many scholarships are available to help you finance your stay. However, generally you need to apply several months in advance or even a year before registration.

https://international.univ-grenoble-alpes.fr/en/
Section Coming to study > Financing your stay

Work
To finance your studies, you can also work part-time, up to a maximum of 964 hours per year, i.e. 60% of the legal number of hours counting as full-time work in France (apart from exceptions associated to certain types of visa). Each institution of the Communauté Université Grenoble Alpes has information and insertion facilities that can help you in this.

https://international.univ-grenoble-alpes.fr/en/
Section Practical Matters > Finding a job

Housing allowance
Students who rent accommodation can apply for financial aid from the French State for their rent, called “aide au logement”, “APL” or “ALS”. This aid is subject to conditions, and its amount depends on the rent, the type of accommodation, its surface and your financial resources. Thus, it is difficult to include it in the calculation of your budget before your arrival.

https://international.univ-grenoble-alpes.fr/en/
Section Accommodation > Financial assistance with accommodation
Students can mainly choose between living in public university residences or in the private rental sector. Finding an accommodation in the region can be challenging, especially in Grenoble, but there are many possibilities. We recommend you start your search at least two months prior to your arrival in France.

Public university residences (CROUS)

This is by far the cheapest type of accommodation, but you need to apply as soon as possible, because the number of places is limited. Note that applying to CROUS does not guarantee you a room!

How to apply to CROUS for accommodation

If you come in the context of an exchange program

→ The International Students & Scholars Office - ISSO centralizes all the application forms and acts as an intermediary between the student and CROUS. You will be automatically provided with a link for your online application.

If you come as a private individual

→ You need to send an application form for international students - LEI ("Logement Étudiant International") - to CROUS, according to the DSE ("Dossier Social Etudiant") procedure. Note that all application forms sent after May 31 will not be considered as high-priority and thus will take longer to examine.

Private rental sector

The rental offer in the private sector is far greater. However, it may be challenging for an international student to find accommodation remotely. It is generally preferable in this case to book temporary accommodation for a few weeks and then search for permanent accommodation on arrival. (see the section “Booking temporary accommodation” in this guide).

How to find accommodation in the private sector

Searching for accommodation

→ Via the national web portal for student housing 'LoKaviZ': this website references rental offers in the private sector for apartments, shared

Obtaining a Visa

Except for nationals from the European Economic Area, Monaco, Andorra and Switzerland, it is necessary to get a visa to enter and study in metropolitan France. To find out whether you need a visa:

To find out whether you need a visa
> https://france-visas.gouv.fr

Applying for a student visa

If your country is affected by the “Studying in France” procedure (“Études en France” - CEF), you will get all necessary information about your visa application on the Campus France website:

If your country is not affected by the “Studying in France” procedure (“Études en France”- CEF), you will have to consult the French embassy in your country of residence to follow the application procedure for a student visa. The duration of the procedure is variable depending on the country and the application period, but it generally takes several weeks. Therefore, it is necessary to apply well in advance.

Preparing your file

In addition to your admission, several aspects of your case will be reviewed by the Consulate, including: proof of residence in France (which may be temporary accommodation) and proof of sufficient financial resources. You will be required to have at least €615 per month for the duration of your visa.

Finding a guarantor

French law protects tenants from evictions. That is why almost all owners require a tenant to have a guarantor for rent payment.

A guarantor is a person, a fiscal resident in France, who agrees to pay your rent in your stead if you can no longer ensure the payment.

For international students who may have difficulties in finding a guarantor in France, other solutions exist, namely the “Visale” procedure, which is also accepted by CROUS.

Apartments and rooms. You need to create an account to get contact information.
www.lokaviz.fr

→ Via real estate agencies: they offer a wide choice of accommodation and serve as an intermediary between property owners and tenants throughout the rental period. However, you will need to pay for their service (agency fees). In Grenoble, these agency fees can reach a maximum of €10/m², to which €3/m² will be added as entry inventory fees.

→ Via the association ADIIJ (‘Association Départementale Information Initiative Jeunesse’) that publishes private listings: apartments, shared apartments, rooms. www.info-jeunes.fr

→ From individual to individual: some owners directly manage their property rental. In this case, there are no agency fees, but beware, this solution does not offer the same guarantees or structure as a real estate agency.

LEARNING ABOUT HEALTH INSURANCE COVERAGE

In France, the healthcare system generally takes care of most healthcare costs, and is known as one of the best in the world. Subscription to health insurance is mandatory for stays of more than 3 months, unless there is a bilateral agreement between France and your country of origin. This is the case for all member states of the European Union, European Economic Area, as well as Switzerland and Quebec.

Health insurance, commonly known as “Sécurité sociale”, covers only a part of healthcare costs, and the reimbursement rate varies according to the type and importance of treatment needed. It is possible to subscribe to an additional health insurance, known as a “complémentaire santé” or “mutuelle”, to cover the remaining healthcare costs. Even though it is optional, it will better cover your medical expenses, especially in case of hospitalization.

Health insurance (“Sécurité sociale”)

From 2018, all students will register with the general scheme of Social security. The reimbursement procedures are different, depending on whether there is a bilateral agreement between France and your country of origin or not, but reimbursement rates are the same for all students.

→ You are from Europe (EU/EEA) or Switzerland: in order not to have to register to the French Social security scheme, you will have to get a European Health Insurance Card (EHIC, or ‘CEAM’ in French) from the health insurance provider of your country of origin, before you come to France. Your card must be valid for the whole duration of your stay in France.

→ You come from Quebec: in order not to have to register to the French Social security scheme, you will have to get a certificate issued by the “Régie d’Assurance Maladie du Québec” before you come to France.

→ For all other nationalities:
Caution, ongoing reform!
A reform of the student status is ongoing and will be in place for September 2018. Many different measures are about to be taken in order to improve students living conditions and facilitate their administrative steps, including Social security registration procedures. As this guide is being written, details of the implementation of the reform are not known yet. Please visit ISSO’s web portal in order to have the most up to date information.

Three major changes are expected to happen:
- All students will now be managed by the “Caisse Primaire d’Assurance Maladie” (CPAM)
- Student Social security registration fee is cancelled (it used to cost about €215)
- Social security registration will no longer happen at the same time as the administrative registration at university. It will need to be done directly with the health insurance organization CPAM. Don’t forget to register upon arrival!

Good to know
In Grenoble, all students enrolled in one of the Communauté Université Grenoble Alpes institutions can visit general practitioners (and some specialists) for free at the Students Health Centres. Their team provide information, consultations, and preventive actions throughout the academic year.

Travel insurance
If you do not have an EHIC or RAMQ form upon arrival in France, you will not be covered for your medical expenses until you register to the “Caisse Primaire d’Assurance Maladie” (CPAM). We recommend you take out a travel health insurance before leaving your country, in order to be covered for the first month of your stay in France. You can never be too careful!

Repatriation insurance
We also advise you to take out repatriation insurance for the duration of your stay before your arrival in France (in case of serious illness or death). Some bank cards include a repatriation insurance, check with your bank before leaving.

Good to know
There are two other mandatory insurances to be taken out upon arrival in France: the housing insurance, and the civil liability insurance. For more information, see the section “You have just arrived” in this guide.

In order to open a French bank account, you will need to provide a proof of address in France. Temporary accommodations do not always make it possible to get such a document.
PREPARING YOUR ARRIVAL (CHECKLIST AND TIPS)

Essentials

For all students:
- ID card (European nationals) or passport.
- Health record and vaccination certificates (if available).
- Original of your birth certificate with filiation, along with its French translation (see “Good to know” note below.).
- Letter of acceptance from the French educational institution (original if available).
- Driver’s license if you want to use a car in France.
- Socket adapter, depending on the standard in your country.

For students with a long stay study visa (VLS-TS residence permit):
- Application form for OFII certification issued and stamped by the authority having issued the visa.

For European (EU, EEE) and Swiss nationals:
- European Health Insurance Card (EHIC) valid for the whole duration of your stay in France.

For Quebec nationals:
- RAMQ (Régie de l’Assurance Maladie du Québec) certificate/form, for your health expenses.

For students staying less than 3 months:
- Health and repatriation insurances covering the whole duration of your stay.

Good to know
Every document written in a language other than French (birth certificate, driver’s licence, etc.) must be translated by a translator sworn by the French courts. If you want to translate these documents before leaving, we recommend asking the French embassy or consulate in your country, in order to have the translated documents legalized or apostilled.

TIPS

Before leaving, scan all your important documents and send them to your mailbox. If possible, take two or three photocopies of these documents with you, because very soon you will quickly need them in France, for example, to get accommodation or to open a bank account.

As for the flight, avoid putting valuables in the hold, and carry all the documents from the checklist with you, because they can be claimed upon arrival by the border control services.

In case you do not have internet access upon your arrival, it may be useful to create a document containing essential information, such as your address upon arrival, reception telephone number (for student residences), directions between the station and your accommodation with bus or tram numbers, contact at your institution, contact of your mentor (if you have a program of this type) etc.

If your country uses a currency other than the Euro, consider changing money at the airport to be able to make your first payments. Before leaving, check the terms of overseas money withdrawal with your card, because opening an account in France can take one to two weeks (see the section “Opening a bank account” in this guide).

Some schools or departments offer their exchange students opportunities to be put into contact with a student volunteer already living in Grenoble (a buddy), who can help them settle. You can contact your correspondent in the International Relations office to find out if this applies to you.
If you do not take part in an exchange program, you can contact associations for international students, which also offer student mentoring programs. (See the section "Associations for international students" in this guide.)
Step 3:

YOU HAVE JUST ARRIVED
@ GETTING INTERNET ACCESS

An internet access is an essential step. Via internet, you can contact your family and it will be useful in helping you settle in.

You can find many free WiFi spots in airports, in shuttle buses, in cafes, as well as in some public spaces.

In Grenoble, computers are available with free access to the internet at the Welcome Center - ISSO. Most university residences also have WiFi networks you can access upon arrival.

Once you have completed your enrollment, you will have access to the WiFi-campus network, accessible on all campuses of the Communauté Université Grenoble Alpes institutions.

Good to know

You can also get internet access via your phone, as 4G can be found in nearly every city. However, roaming charges may apply if you do not use a French sim card! In France, all mobile tariffs include an internet access; you can find offers with (almost) unlimited internet access for around €20 a month.

FINDING ACCOMMODATION

Finding accommodation once you have arrived

If all you have booked for your arrival is temporary accommodation, you will certainly spend the first weeks actively searching for a place to stay. To find accommodation, regularly consult internet and real estate agency listings, and do not hesitate to seek advice from other students. When visiting accommodation, do not forget to bring several copies of your complete file: this will allow you to get in first if you find the place of your dreams!

Check the section “Searching for accommodation” in this guide for more detailed information on searching for accommodation in the private rental sector.

Documents that may be required for signing a rental agreement:
www.service-public.fr/particuliers/vosdroits/F1169

When entering your accommodation

Entry Inventory (“Etat des lieux d’entrée”)
An entry inventory is a procedure whereby the owner and the tenant review the state of the apartment and record any defects or damage in a written report. It must be carried out systematically before renting, and your presence is mandatory. It also defines the responsibilities of each party in case of litigation. At the end of the contract, it will be compared to the exit inventory. This step generally occurs before the keys are handed over, but can be performed the same day. If the inventory is carried out by a professional, you will be charged partly.

Good to know
During the inventory, pay close attention to any defects or damage in the accommodation and do not forget to read the inventory report before you sign it. A copy of the inventory must be given to you. If you want to modify or add to the inventory, you must send a registered letter with proof of delivery ("recommandé avec accusé de réception") detailing the modifications you want to make, within 10 days after moving in.

Find out more

Signing the rental agreement (“bail”)
Before you can enter your accommodation, the owner and yourself must sign a rental agreement, called the ‘bail’. This agreement is drawn up in two copies and defines the rental conditions, stating the amount of the rent, the surface area of the accommodation, the duration of the agreement, etc. When signing the agreement, you will have to pay various entry fees, such as:

→ the security deposit
→ the agency fees (if you rented through a real estate agency)
→ the first month’s rent

Find out more
www.service-public.fr/particuliers/vosdroits/N349

Insuring your accommodation
All rented accommodation must be insured for rental risks, covering damage caused to your accommodation by fire, water damage or an explosion. However, this insurance does not necessarily cover possessions you have in your home, for example in case of burglary. If you want to be covered for this, you have to take out a “multi-risk” housing insurance (do not forget to keep the bills of all your possessions).

Banks, student insurance providers and other insurance companies offer rental liability and multi-risk insurance contracts.

Concluding contracts for water, electricity, gas, internet and a landline
After you have entered your accommodation, it is time to conclude contracts for water, electricity, or gas, even if you already have access to these utilities when entering your accommodation. If you stay in a university residence, this process is simpler, because water, electricity, gas and internet access are often included in the rent.

OPENING A BANK ACCOUNT

To open a bank account you need to provide a proof of address in France, thus it is not possible to start the process before your arrival. Please also note that temporary accommodations do not always make it possible to get such a document.

A French bank account is almost essential (though not mandatory). Wage payments and health costs reimbursements can be paid only to a French bank account.

Steps to follow to open a bank account:

➜ Choose a bank: check if your bank in your home country has a partnership with a French bank, or if your institution has concluded a privileged partnership.

➜ Make an appointment with a bank advisor: go to the bank directly to make an appointment.

➜ Prepare your file according to the documents requested by the Bank. The documents usually required are:
  • proof of identity (ID card, or passport with the visa)
  • proof of address with your name on it (rental agreement or ‘bail’, certificate of university residency, rent receipt, electricity bill, etc.)
  • Student card (optional, in the case of special student offers)

Section Practical Matters > Managing your budget

Good to know
Opening an account is usually free of charge, but some services may have to be paid for (credit card, money transfers, overdraft facilities, etc.). Get as much information as possible and do not hesitate to compare several bank offers!

Banks also often offer insurance services and products. Therefore, it is possible to take out your housing insurance and civil liability insurance at the bank, when opening your account.

TAKING OUT CIVIL LIABILITY INSURANCE

In addition to health and rental liability insurances, this is the third mandatory insurance in France. It covers any damage you may involuntarily cause to others. You will need this insurance to finish your enrollment in your institution. Banks, student insurances (LMDE or SMERRA) and other insurance companies provide liability insurance contracts.

Good to know
If you have already taken out a “rental risks” insurance, it is very likely that it already contains a civil liability insurance: remember to check!

Completing your enrollment

After your arrival, you must carry out your final administrative registration (‘inscription administrative’) at the ‘service de scolarité’ of your host institution, and in order to receive your student card. This is when you are going to pay for registration fees, as well as the student life fees (“cotisation vie étudiante”). Please refer to the specific instructions given to you along with your admission letter to know how to proceed, and what documents to bring. There will then follow your course registration (choice of courses, options, methods of assessment) which will take place in your particular Faculty (UFR: ‘Unité de Formation et de Recherche’).

Good to know
Once your enrolment is completed, you will receive your login details to access the WiFi-campus network.
REGISTRATION FOR HEALTH INSURANCE

General scheme of the health insurance ("Sécurité sociale")

You are from Europe (UE/EEA), Switzerland, or Québec:
If you have a European Health Insurance Card (EHIC, or ‘CEAM’ in French) valid for the whole academic year, or a RAMQ form, you do not need to register for the health insurance. You can send your reimbursement claims directly to the CPAM International Relations office of your place of residence, enclosing a copy of your EHIC or RAMQ form.

For other nationalities:
Caution, ongoing reform!
A reform of the student status is ongoing and will be in place for September 2018. Many different measures are about to be taken in order to improve students living conditions and facilitate their administrative steps, including Social security registration procedures. As this guide is being written, details of the implementation of the reform are not known yet. Please visit ISSO’s web portal in order to have the most up to date information.

What we know:
Several steps should be gone through to register and get a Social security number:

1. Registering online via a CPAM platform dedicated to students.
2. Sending out documents to complete your registration file.
   For information purposes only, documents usually required are:
   ➔ If you are from the EU/EEA or Switzerland:
      Copy of your ID card or passport.
   ➔ If you are from outside the EU/EEA or Switzerland:
      Copy of your residence permit or passport (identity page, visa page, OFII vignette if you already have it).
   ➔ Copy of your birth certificate, or an extract of your birth certificate with filiation, or an equivalent document by a French consulate abroad: in the original language and along with a translation done by a sworn translator. The translation can be done: either in France, or at a French embassy or consulate abroad in your country (where it must be legalized or apostilled).
   ➔ Copy of your student card, or of your ‘Certificat de scolarité’.
   ➔ A ‘RIB’ (Relevé d’Identité Bancaire) of your bank account in France
3. Receiving your health insurance certificate ("attestation de droits à l’assurance maladie"), which will include your Social security number. You may need this document when going to the doctor, the Students Health Centre, or the pharmacy. You should always keep a copy of it with you.

Complementary health insurance ("complémentaires santé" or "mutuelles"): optional
The general scheme of the health insurance covers only part of the medical expenses. For a better coverage, you can take out a complementary health insurance, called "complémentaire santé" or “mutuelle” in French. Although this is highly recommended, it is not mandatory. Take your time to compare the different offers.

Good to know
Even if you have a limited budget, we strongly recommend you take out at least minimum complementary health insurance (from €5-6 per month). This will allow you to cover most of any hospitalization-related expenses.

Registering with a referent doctor (‘médecin traitant’) The health insurance will ask you to choose a referent doctor (‘médecin traitant’), in charge of your medical follow-up. If you see a general practitioner who is not your referent doctor, it is possible that you are less reimbursed. Note that it is possible to choose and register the Grenoble Students Health Center as your referent doctor.

APPLYING FOR HOUSING ALLOWANCE

For any stay longer than 3 months, every student can apply for a housing allowance (called “allocation”) to the CAF (Caisse d’Allocations Familiales). This allowance is calculated based on the type of housing, rent, financial resources, and the personal situation of the student. All applications are to be made online, on the CAF website. If the application is accepted, a monthly allowance will be paid starting from the 2nd month of your stay in France.

The CAF website also has practical documents in several languages to guide you through the application procedure:

Good to know

Students with a visa marked “dispense temporaire de carte de séjour”, or having a “carte de séjour pluriannuelle”, cannot benefit from housing allowances.
VALIDATING YOUR VISA OR APPLYING FOR A RESIDENCE PERMIT

Depending on the type of your visa, you will need to follow one of these two procedures:

→ If you have a long-stay study visa (VLS-TS) and an ‘Office Français de l’Immigration et de l’Intégration’ (OFII) form, you will have to have your visa validated by the OFII.

→ Otherwise, you have to go to the office in charge of immigration matters (Préfecture) to submit your file with all the required documents.

OFII procedure

If you have a Long-Stay Visa serving as a resident permit (VLS-TS), you must have it validated by the OFII (French Immigration and Integration Office) so that it actually becomes a residence permit. This must be done in the first three months of your stay in France.

1st step: You must send the following documents to OFII:

→ The form « Visa de Long Séjour – Demande d’attestation OFII ». The authority that issued your visa gave you this form. If you do not have it, you can download it from the OFII website: www.ofii.fr

→ A copy of the pages of your passport (identity, long-stay visa, stamp of entry in France or in the Schengen area)

If your file is complete, you will receive by post an acknowledgment of receipt of the “OFII certificate application form”.

2nd step: You will be summoned to the OFII in order to obtain the validation sticker in your passport. With this sticker, your visa has the value of a residence permit. On the day of your summons to the OFII, you will need to bring all the required documents, and pay for a visitor’s tax.

Préfecture procedure

This applies only to:

→ Students who have a C-Concours visa who passed their exam and want to stay in France to continue their studies

→ Visa marked with "carte de séjour à solliciter dans les deux mois suivant l’arrivée"

→ Minors enrolled at school who turned 18 years of age

Upon arrival, you can contact the International Students & Scholars Office (ISSO) team – Immigration assistance department to help you in these procedures.

You have left your country, your family and your friends to enjoy a new experience in a foreign country. Although you have prepared yourself for this stay, you can feel a certain “culture shock” to a greater or lesser degree, and a sense of homesickness. This is quite normal and is part of your adaptation process. For successful cultural adaptation, keep an open mind and a sense of humor! Moreover, be prepared to accept failure and do not be afraid to communicate. Curiosity, tolerance of differences, respect for others and self-esteem are characteristics that will facilitate your integration. If you continue to feel ill at ease, you can contact the Communauté Université Grenoble Alpes Health Center (see the section “Learning about health insurance coverage” in this guide). And remember, you are not alone! Although everything seems new, you already have special contacts to facilitate your integration.

Your host institution
Should you have questions related to the academic or teaching process, your university enrollment, courses or exams, do not hesitate to contact the administrative staff (‘Service de Scolarité’ or International Relations) or a head teacher in your host institution.
